The competition aimed to provide a platform for students to hone their public speaking skills and engage in critical thinking. Participants must analyse information, identify strengths and weaknesses in arguments, and construct logical counter-arguments. This mental workout strengthens the ability to think on your feet and approach problems from multiple angles and exposes you to diverse viewpoints. By considering opposing arguments, you gain a broader perspective on issues and develop the ability to see things from different angles. This fosters intellectual growth and a more to learnt approach to differing opinions. "Budget Pe Charcha" is often used in the context of events organized to analyze and discuss the Indian Union Budget after its presentation. These events typically involve expert panelists who break down the budget's implications for various sectors and the public. They can be held in academic institutions, by media organizations, or even by the government itself. By simplifying complex financial concepts, "Budget Pe Charcha" aims to improve public understanding of the national budget. This can empower citizens to hold the government accountable for its spending plans and how they might affect their lives.

The aim of organizing competition was to improve the public speaking skills of the students and teach them to be articulate while expressing their thoughts and opinions. The session was the kaleidoscope of opinions, thoughts and perspective that enhanced the knowledge and understanding about the Budget among students. The competition witnessed active participation from students. Twenty nine students of B.com participated in the event with great zeal and enthusiasm.

Objective of conducting “Budget Pe Charcha” is to provide a comprehensive understanding of the Union Budget and the significance of "Budget Pe Charcha" (Budget Discussion) for students. This activity helped the students to understand the Union Budget, its structure, and its role in shaping the country's economic policies. It seeks to highlight how the Budget serves as a key tool for the government to outline its financial plans, including revenue generation, expenditure allocation, and economic growth strategies. The activity focuses on the importance of "Budget Par Charcha" as a platform for public discussion, especially students, to engage with and understand the implications of the government's fiscal decisions.

The criteria used to determine the winner were Content, Presentation, Confidence, Dress code, Clarity & Time Limit. The competition was judged by Mr. Rohit Sinha. Garima saini (Ministry of Rural Development) & Nikita (Ministry of Tourism) students of first year secured the first and Second position respectively.

In conclusion, today's "Budget Pe Charcha", has provided students—with an opportunity to understand and discuss the national Budget. For students, this discussion was important as it helped them become aware of the government's plans for education, employment, taxation, and economic growth. By engaging in these discussions, students could develop a better understanding of how fiscal policies affect their lives and the country as a whole.
