During the session, industry representatives from Maruti Suzuki, Hero MotoCorp, and ŠKODA AUTO shared valuable insights into emerging job roles in automotive, manufacturing, and digital skilling sectors. Students engaged in an interactive discussion on career pathways, internships, and industry-recognized certifications.

The Community College of Skill Development also signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC). This collaboration is part of the university's initiative to integrate skill development with academic learning, bridging the gap between education and industry to equip students with skills for the contemporary job market. During the program, gold medallist students of the Community College of Skill Development were also felicitated for their outstanding academic and skill-based achievements.

The Community College of Skill Development, functioning under J.C.
